SECOND POSSE SEEKS SUSPECTS

SAYS CLIMATE CAUSES GOITER

Deputies Scour Woods Near Otter Lake for Ruelle Murderers

In the hope of apprehending the alleged murderers of Albert Ruelle, Sheriff Cruise this afternoon detailed a squad of deputies to Otter Lake, directing them to comb the woods, visit every camp and farm house and leave no stone unturned that may aid in their capture. While this posse is in the densely wooded section in the lower end of the county, another group of officers is situated in the South Range district.

Undersheriff Heikkila returned this morning from Ishpeming where he went yesterday to seek two suspicious characters, the descriptions of whom correspond with that of two of the murderers. His mission was without result, however, and the suspects were released.

Giuseppe Umbrelli, the Italian arrested Tuesday night near Chassell, on suspicion of being one of the four Italians who killed Albert Ruelle at Nellie Powers' road house near the Superior mine early Tuesday morning, was identified positively by the Powers women yesterday afternoon.

He was taken before the Powers woman in the woman's ward of the jail, where she is held as a witness, and she recognized him instantly, declaring very earnestly that Umbrelli was one of the four men.

"She knows me alright," Umbrelli said to Deputy Sheriff Chellow after the identification. This is all the comment he made.

Stolen Watch Is Found.
When the inmates of the Powers house described the property taken from them by the four Italians, who ransacked the house and took everything of value after killing Ruelle, Nellie Powers described a watch that had been taken from her. This watch was found on Umbrelli's person when he was arrested.

Umbrelli's record in the copper country has not been learned in detail. He is known to have worked in the Hancock mine and later for a building contractor, but how long he has been in the district has not been learned. He must have lived in the United States several years, as he speaks good English.

Umbrelli will not be arraigned till all hope of capturing his three accomplices has been abandoned or they have been apprehended.

ESTIMATE OF ROAD WORK.

Amount Which May Be Done This Year to Be Ascertained.

The special committee of the Houghton county board, Supervisors James MacNaughton of Calumet, E. A. Hamer of Chassell and R. E. Seebor of Elm River, met yesterday in Houghton to discuss the question of bonding the county in the sum of $300,000 to furnish labor for men thrown out of work in the mines.

The only action taken by the committee was to ask the county road commission to prepare an estimate of the amount of work possible to be done in the county yet this year. After hearing that report, which will be within the week, the committee will meet again and possibly prepare a recommendation to be presented to the county board.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

YOUNG MAN LOSES HIS LIFE IN LAKE EVA

RICHARD BEER, JR., AGED NINETEEN, OF PAINESDALE, IS DROWNED.

Richard Beer, Jr., aged nineteen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beer of Painesdale, was drowned at Lake Eva yesterday afternoon at about 3 o'clock. Beer and three companions arrived at the lake about noon yesterday. After dinner they went in bathing for an hour or so and then went out for a ride in an old, flat-bottomed boat. There was a large hole about four inches from the top of the boat, but the young men did not deem it dangerous and they had a thoroughly enjoyable time for about a half hour or more.

The boat gradually filled with water, despite frequent bailing, and it was necessary to pull for the shore. When within twenty feet of land, Beer leaped into the lake, overturning the craft. None of the party could swim. Henry Tretheway, aged twenty, and William Bryant, aged eighteen, succeeded in keeping hold of the boat. Reaching out his hand, William Bryant succeeded in saving his brother, aged 16, who was struggling in the water. Beer went down and never rose to the surface.

Body Quickly Recovered.
Herbert Kellow and John Bryant, the latter a brother of William and Thomas, were camping on the shore of the lake. They heard the cry for help and hastened to the rescue. With a fishpole, line and hook they succeeded in bringing the body to the surface in less than ten minutes from the time it went down. For an hour and a half they worked heroically in an effort to restore life. Thomas Bryant ran to the Copper Range station at Tolvola, a distance of three miles and telephoned to the Painesdale station for help. County Physician LeBlanc, Deputy James Thomas and Copper Range Electrician Feldman of Houghton were sent for and they came with a pulmotor. All efforts to restore life were futile, however.

The deceased was widely and favorably known in Painesdale. He was prominent in the activities of the McKinley Temple of Honor and Temperance and was the worthy archon of the Painesdale Junior section.

Justice of the Peace John Eichkorn of Hancock, acting as coroner, impaneled a jury which viewed the body at the Tolvola station this morning. The jury is made up as follows: James Huggler, Mike Kohlhammer, Albert Nicholson, Gust Kolstenen, Bert Than and Matt Kolva.

SPEAKER MAY NOT COME.

Ohio Congressman, Booked To Address Educators, May Cancel Engagement.

If F. B. Willis, congressman from the Seventh district of Ohio, has been nominated on the Republican ticket for governor of that state, Houghton misses a chance to hear him speak next October. He has been listed for some time as one of the principal speakers at the coming convention of the Upper Peninsula Educational association.

Superintendent Doelle, who is president of the association, was advised some weeks ago by Congressman Willis that he was a candidate for governor of Ohio and that if he attained the honor he would be so busy campaigning in October that it would be impossible for him to keep his Houghton engagement.

It looked very much as though Willis had been nominated, according to the latest report Mr. Doelle had, and that it will be necessary to book another speaker. If this is the case the teachers of the upper peninsula will be disappointed, as they know the Ohio congressman's reputation as a speaker. He is a former teacher who went into the law and politics, but who has retained his interest in educational matters and has won a great reputation as a speaker before educational gatherings.

GIVES ADVICE ON COST OF LIVING

WINS IN MIMIC NAVAL BATTLE

State Food Commissioner Suggests a Cheaper Ration

Timely advice on the campaign against the high cost of living is contained in a circular issued by James W. Helme, state dairy and food commissioner, in which valuable suggestions for a cheaper ration are set forth.

The circular follows:
Mr. High-Priced-Meat after doing several amateur aerial stunts during the past year, has finally joined the professional ranks and made an out-of-sight ascension and gone to Europe. Now that the balloon has gone out of sight, there is nothing for the spectator to do, but look around and wonder what to do about it.

The public should at once get educated on what constitutes a cheap balanced ration for the human animal. Two kinds of foods are necessary for human life. The carbohydrates which furnish heat and energy and the proteins which repair the bodily waste. The first are obtained by starchy or fat foods and are easily and cheaply obtained from potatoes and the cereals. Protein to repair bodily waste has generally been obtained through meat. But there are other sources of protein, much cheaper. A working man needs three ounces of protein daily to repair the bodily wastes. Before the balloon went up this could be obtained in beef steak for 17c. Some vegetable foods contain a large amount of protein. Three ounces of protein in the form of beans can be obtained for 1-3 what it costs in beef steak. The moral to the housewife is to feed the "old man" more beans and less beefsteak. Peas and lentils are also rich in protein.

Food Value in Milk.
A quart of milk has more food value than a pound of meat and is more easily digested. Cheese is a more greater food value than meat pound for pound. Canned salmon has a much greater food value than any meat and costs less. Meat is not necessary for human existence. This is maintained by as great an authority as Dr. Kellogg of Battle Creek, who has raised a family of 22 children and taught to know from experience. Potatoes and corn meal are the cheapest form of starchy foods. Michigan produces more beans and potatoes than any state in the Union, and is third in the production of cheese and milk. Michigan people ought not to be embarrassed because meat has taken a flyer. Moreover, beef is often tubercular. Pork has at times the trichina worm and mutton is sometimes "mealy" which contains the germ of the tape worm, so we are missing a lot of things if we don't eat meat.

Will Help Consumers.
In anticipation of the war this Department has had printed 20,000 copies of a bulletin of Foods and Food Values, which can be had free on application. It shows the food value of all common foods. From it the housewife can figure out a balanced ration that will keep the human engine going without paying 40c a pound for beefsteak. If we all cut out a greater part of the meat we eat, we will have better health and at the same time put a hole in the high-priced meat balloon with the old gun "lack of demand" that will make it come down within reach again. Education of food consumers on food values is the most available remedy at present for the high cost of living.

COUNCIL WILL MEET TONIGHT.
The Hancock council did not meet last evening owing to the lack of a quorum. The meeting is now scheduled for tonight, when election commissioners and inspectors will be named.

A meeting of the board of public works was held last evening. The board recommended that the city purchase a quantity of coal from the Portage Coal & Dock company. The recommendation will be acted upon this evening.

Yantic is Victor Over Ships of First Division in Sham Fight

With the flag of victory streaming from its mastheads, the training ship Yantic, bearing the Hancock naval reserve, is scheduled to arrive in port this evening from the annual cruise of the state naval brigade. Since Monday, the ships which make up the Great Lakes division, have been cruising leisurely and stops were made in various ports. While the Yantic is proceeding homeward, the Gopher is en route to Duluth and with the arrival of the ships, the cruise comes to an end.

The Yantic sailed from Hancock on the night of August 7, and proceeded to Marquette, where the division of that city was taken aboard. From there the ship steamed to Mackinac Island, where the Gopher was met and where plans were made for the second division's part in the mimic battle that had been planned by the navy department.

In compliance with the orders the Gopher and the Yantic left on Tuesday noon, Aug. 11, to carry out the war game of intercepting the ships of the first division, Isla Du Luzon, Essex, Hawk, Dorothea and Wolverine, which were outside the ten-mile zone, that had been established. The hours were from noon on Tuesday until midnight, in which time the second division would have to intercept the other boats. At 11:17 o'clock in the evening, the first division vessels were going at top speed, with their lights all out, when the search lights of the Gopher located them. Meantime the Yantic, which was guarding the channel, intercepted the Luzon. The following morning the companies from the Gopher and Yantic successfully defended the island in a series of land maneuvers. Officers from the navy department acted as judges and rendered the decisions.

An incident last Friday gave the men on the Yantic quite a thrill and incidentally showed how well the boys are trained. Seaman McKusick of the Gopher fell overboard from the superstructure and exactly three minutes and five seconds from the time "man overboard" was shouted, the young seaman was on board his ship.

HANCOCK MERCHANT SAYS BUSINESS ABOUT NORMAL

BUSINESSMAN THINKS THAT COMING WINTER WILL NOT BE HARD ONE.

The merchants of Hancock are not generally known as pessimists and there is at least one in this city who is an optimist. When asked today for an opinion on probable conditions during the coming winter he replied that as far as he could predict business would be about normal.

"Of course this struggle in the European countries has scared many people into believing that the winter will be a hard one and starvation will stare many of us in the face," said the cheery owner of one of Hancock's largest grocery stores, "but I cannot see why local business should be affected to any great extent. Many expect that because food stuffs will be a minus quantity in European countries they will also be scarce in the United States. But this is not reasonable as the United States shippers are not going to send food supplies to Europe and allow local consumers to suffer."

"It will take some time for manufacturers and merchants to adjust themselves to the new conditions arising from the cutting of the foreign markets. Some classes of business must necessarily remain for a while in a dormant state while others will receive a new impulse from the increased demand at home for our domestic products. Moreover there is every possibility and probability that we will find new markets opened up to us in South America and the Orient through the closing to them of their customary sources of supply, and thereby there will be created wonderful opportunities for the extension of American enterprise into fields from which it should never be dislodged, provided it addresses itself wisely, prudently and diligently to their cultivation."

"Many people will no doubt wonder at this last statement and will be unable to see just why this will effect local conditions, but local conditions depend as largely on the trade with foreign countries as it does with home trade. The fact that the countries the United States formerly dealt with in food stuffs will not be on the market does not necessarily mean that the coming months should be hard ones because the opening of new trades means that conditions for the present will remain about normal and after the existing difficulties have been patched up, business will be enlarged and therefore, better."

"The most unpleasant development in the domestic situation has been the evidence of greed and unscrupulousness on the part of certain elements in the business world, manifested in advances in the prices of various commodities and staples, which embrace many of life's necessities. In most cases these price increases have not only been wholly unjustified by present conditions but under the operation of the law of supply and demand a contrary tendency should develop. Foodstuffs for which the foreign market has temporarily been suspended, decline, especially at the seaboard, where there has been unparalleled congestion, and manufactured articles of which there is normally an exportable surplus should depreciate rather than appreciate when restricted wholly to domestic consumption.

"This lengthy explanation of the foreign business world is necessary to uphold my statement that the coming months should not be as hard as some people believe and I am sure that the majority of the local merchants who understand these cases believe as I do."

ENTERTAINS AT SHOWER.

Mrs. Bernice Bundy entertained at the home of her father, Alex J. ## ANTHONY LUCAS

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR RE-NOMINATION FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEY TO THE CITIZENS OF HOUGHTON COUNTY.

I ask your vote and support at the coming Primary Election on my record as a Public Servant.

I have served the people of my district honestly and faithfully as their representative in the legislature, and my record will show that I worked for the best interests of all my constituents.

As your prosecutor, the past eighteen months, I have tried to honestly and conscientiously perform my duty. I have worked harder, and prosecuted more cases and been in a more trying position in my first term in office than any prosecutor in the history of this county.

I stand for honesty, independence and fairness in public office. I believe in protecting the rights of the innocent as well as prosecuting the guilty. I am not connected with, nor do I represent, any interests that will embarrass me in the performance of my duty.

I believe in the fairness and intelligence of our voters, and am willing to entrust my re-nomination and re-election to their fairness and sense of justice, and let them say whether or not I am entitled to the usual second term.

ANTHONY LUCAS, Prosecuting Attorney.
